Nationality: Finland

Profile

I am a natural language processing engineer and researcher. In my most recent position, I implemented and launched a Danish tax law agent (<https://skatchat.dk>). I designed a Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) agent in Python. Additionally, I managed the full development life cycle using Agile methodologies. I collaborated with stakeholders to define tasks, set milestones, assign work to developers and external contractors, and successfully transitioned the product from a working prototype to a paid subscription service.

I successfully defended my doctoral dissertation titled “Language Technology Tools for Low-Resource Languages—Five Cases for Sakha, Norwegian, and Finnish“ in March 2024 and I was awarded a PhD degree by the University of Helsinki, under the Department of Computer Science. Through my PhD experience, I developed strong self-discipline and organizational skills by managing multiple research projects, while also learning to collaborate effectively with diverse teams and researchers from around the world.

Education

Years	University	Title	Awarded
2019–2024	University of Helsinki	Computer Science	2024, Ph.D.
2015–2017	North-Eastern Federal University (Yakutsk)	Information Technologies	2017, MSc
2011–2015	North-Eastern Federal University (Yakutsk)	Information Technologies	2015, BSc
2007–2012	North-Eastern Federal University (Yakutsk)	Japanese Language	2012, BA,MA

Positions held

Year	Organisation	Title	Location
2023–2025	Popoulos Analytics	Senior research scientist	Helsinki, Finland
2022–2023	Kasvu Labs	NLP specialist	Helsinki, Finland
2019–2023	University of Helsinki	Doctoral researcher	Helsinki, Finland
2022–2022	University of Oslo	Visiting doctoral researcher	Oslo, Norway
2017	North-Eastern Federal University	Laboratory supervisor	Yakutsk, Russia
2014–2015	Mytona LLC	C++ programmer	Yakutsk, Russia

Grants and awards

Grants

Year	Awarding body	Description	Duration
2022	University of Oslo’s Teksthub	Coordination of annotation of question answering dataset for Norwegian	6 months
2018	Finnish National Agency for Education	EDUFI Fellowship for doctoral studies in the University of Helsinki, Finland	12 months
2016	University of the Arctic	North2North grant for exchange studies in the university of Helsinki, Finland	4 months
2016	Erasmus Mundus	Grant for exchange studies in the University of Groningen, The Netherlands	5 months

Honors and awards

Year	Awarding body	Description	Location
2017	North-Eastern Federal University	Sofia Sidorova's Governmental Scholarship	Yakutsk, Russia
2017	North-Eastern Federal University	Master's diploma with Honors	Yakutsk, Russia
2016	Ultrahack	Ultrahack 2016 hackathon Health track winner	Helsinki, Finland
2015	North-Eastern Federal University	Bachelor's diploma with Honors	Yakutsk, Russia

Skills

Technical skills

- Python
- Deep learning frameworks: PyTorch, Keras
- NLP frameworks: spaCy, NLTK
- Large language model APIs: OpenAI, Mistral, LLaMA
- Model training, evaluation, and deployment
- Dataset creation and evaluation management
- Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG)
- Web frameworks: FastAPI
- Cloud services and APIs: Stripe, SendGrid, Google Cloud Platform (GCP)
- Databases: SQL and NoSQL
- Web technologies: HTML, CSS

Soft skills

- Agile Project Management
- Attention to detail
- Self-discipline and organization
- International collaboration
- Communication and teamwork
- Critical thinking
- Fast learning

Publications

The following is a list of my peer-reviewed workshop and conference publications. Publications marked with emph have been reviewed and accepted for publication.

Teaching and mentoring

Teaching assistance

Year	Term	Description	Location	Duration
2021	Spring	Natural Language Processing	Helsinki, Finland	2 months

Mentoring

I mentored Aalto-Helsinki iGEM team in summer 2021. iGEM is an annual world-wide synthetic biology competition. I have taken part in the Google Summer of Code as a mentor for Apertium machine translation platform in 2019. This involves mentoring and directing students working on three-month projects related to language technology over the summer.

I have also taken part in the Google Code-in as a mentor for Apertium in 2018 and 2019. This involves mentoring and directing school students working on various tasks related to language technology.

Other activities

Organized the First Workshop on Natural Language Processing for Turkic Languages (SIGTURK 2024) held in conjunction with Annual Meeting of the Association for Computational Linguistics in Bangkok, Thailand.

“Poetry with AI“ exhibit at the Heureka science museum in Helsinki, Finland, 2022.

Sakha language representative at Common Voice—crowdsourcing project started by Mozilla to create a free database for speech recognition software, 2021-2022.
